Note.—In computing the Real Value of the Imports for the Average of Three Years to 25th March 1799, there was 5 per Cent. added to the Rate of Value of British Manufactures Imported into Ireland, to make up for the Expences supposed to be incurred in the Transportation of the Goods from one Country to the other; and 10 per Cent. was added to the Rate of Value on Foreign Goods Imported through Great Britain, to include the various Expences that occurred from the Time of landing in Great Britain until the Period of Re-exportation; together with the British Merchants Profits, but exclusive of the Duties. The Value of the Exports was estimated upon the Principle of the Money which comes into the Country for each Article Exported; it is the Price paid here by the Exporter, encreased by the Duty, if any, and all other Charges incurred at Home.
